While the endocrine system is concerned with the production of hormones, the digestive system is involved with processing food. Although the two systems seem quite different, the gut is actually the largest of the body's endocrine organs, making the endocrine system and digestive system closely linked. Inside the intestines, ordinary gut cells are interspersed with individual endocrine cells which make up what is called the enteric endocrine system.

What Is the Connection between the Endocrine System and ...

The digestive and endocrine systems work together, mostly through the pancreas, to produce and disseminate digestive enzymes. The endocrine system contains several different organs and glands, which are the hypothalamus, pituitary, parathyroids, adrenal glands, reproductive glands, thyroid and pineal body. The primary role of the endocrine system is to produce important hormones that tell the digestive system when to start digesting food and when to stop.
