Sounds like you'd be better off with the manual. I had never owned an auto before my mk6 GTI DSG and absolutely love it. I use it in d with dcc in comfort 99.999% of the time and it's great. When I do want to go fast I put it across to m (s seems like a waste of time in the mk6) and dcc to sport and the car totally transforms.

On paper the DSG transmission in the GTI is a $1,100 option above the manual. However it looks like among dealers in my area (Texas), the MTs are much more rare (except in Golf R) and almost invariably they cost $1000 MORE than DSG, not less. I assume this is related to supply and demand, as most people choose auto I think.
