I Have owned this truck since 2005 and it has been very reliable although it has broken down a couple of times. The pump for my Airride failed, the 2nd hand replacement cost me $700 installed in 2009 rather than $1200.00 for a new replacement part on its own.

Do not buy a Ford Expedition. We have a 2000 with the 4.6, and have had a lot of ignition coil problems. The car has 70,000 miles, and have replaced three already, waiting for others to go out anytime. At over $100 each (there are 8) plus labor, it is not cheap, and ignition coils should not go bad this early.
