Follow these steps to empower your readers to use their strategies: Give them the text. Tell them to use what they know – use what you've taught them. Don't give them a full overview of the text. Good readers, adult readers, don't pick up books and get a full overview. They use strategies. If they don't know what to do with the text, great!

Guided Reading Strategies - TeamTom Education

Ruddell (2009) recommended that reading strategies do three things: (1) provide students with the opportunity "to interact and transact with the text" (p. 220), (2) purposefully guide the student as they read in the content area, and (3) help students to integrate their reading with content learning.
