Audi A3 Replacing Airbags Manual

By Stuart Johnston. The previous generation Audi A3 is fitted with between four and six airbags depending on the model. These are located in the steering wheel centre, on the passenger-side of the dashboard, in the side of each front seat, and in the roof lining on each side of the car above the B Pillar. Whereas replacement airbags in some other countries can be bought by individuals, in South Africa the norm is to source the airbags and associated components through dealer networks.
