The Best of You had its humble roots as a social movement about appreciation. More than five years on, it has become much more than that. We started our movement with a simple question: Who is the best of you? This question became our signature remark that prompted people to take time out of their busy lives and take stock of their accomplishments.

The Best of You is about appreciation.

"The best of you are those who feed others and return greetings." [Abu Ya'la, Hasan] "The best of you is he from whom good is anticipated and safety from his evil is assured; the worst of you is he from whom nothing good is expected and one is not safe from his evil." [Tirmidhi, Sahih] "The best thing mankind has been given is excellent character."
