Manufactured by Singer, the Kenmore 158 was sold in the late 1970s and is one of the last mechanical sewing machines offered by Sears. The sewing machine offers a variety of stitches determined by the choice of plastic cams that were placed in a compartment at the top of the machine arm. The machine came with a simple straight and zig-zag stitch cam, and additional cams were available through Sears or Singer. The solid metal construction means that many machines still work today.
