Public leadership is a value-laden concept in which public value is viewed as its overall outcome. Collective leadership is thus of central importance in managing what will inevitably emerge as competing values on the journey towards shared values.

The new public leadership challenge: rediscovering or ...

There has been an increasing momentum in public sector reform in the UK since 1997 as part of the wider modernising government agenda (HMSO 1999). This chapter explores the impact of these reforms on public leaders and how the reforms embrace the traditional notion of new public management (NPM). One of the aims of the challenge is to identify what public leadership means, whether the term can be applied consistently across the public sector and whether public leadership can be evaluated.
