The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program Ravenio Books

Marine Corps Reference Publication (MCRP) 3-02B. Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP), is designed for Marines to review and study techniques after receiving initial naming from a certified Marine Corps martial arts instructor or martial arts instructor trainer. It is not designed as a self-study or independent course. The true value of Marine Corps Martial Arts Program is enhancement to unit training. A frilly implemented program can help instill unit esprit de corps and help foster the mental, character, and physical development of the individual Marine in the unit. This publication guides individual Marines, unit leaders, and martial arts instructors/instructor trainers in the proper tactics, techniques, and procedures for martial arts training. MCRP 3-02B is not intended to replace supervision by appropriate unit leaders and martial arts instruction by qualified instructors. Its role is to ensure standardized execution of tactics, techniques, and procedures throughout the Marine Corps. Although not directive, this publication is intended for use as a reference by all Marines in developing individual and unit martial arts programs. For policy on conducting martial arts training, refer to Marine Corps Order 1500.59, Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP). WARNING Techniques described in this manual can cause serious injury or death. Practical application in the training of these techniques will be conducted in strict adherence with training procedures outlined in this manual as well as by conducting a thorough operational risk assessment for all training.

The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program

2016 Reprint of 2011 Edition. Full facsimile of the original edition, not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software. The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) is a combat system developed by the United States Marine Corps to combine existing and new hand-to-hand and close-quarters combat techniques with morale and team-building functions and instruction in the Warrior Ethos. The program, which began in 2001, trains Marines (and U.S. Navy personnel attached to Marine units) in unarmed combat, edged weapons, weapons of opportunity, and rifle and bayonet techniques. It also stresses mental and character development, including the responsible use of force, leadership, and teamwork. The program uses an advancement system of colored belts similar to that of most martial arts. The different levels of belts are: Tan belt, the lowest color belt and conducted during entry level training, signifies the basic understanding of the mental, physical, and character disciplines. It is the minimum requirement of all Marines with a training time of 27.5 hours, and has no prerequisites. Recruits receive these belts after completion of a practical application test on all of the basic techniques of the Tan Belt. Gray belt is the second belt attained after 25 hours of training. It signifies an intermediate understanding of the basic disciplines. The Marine must complete the "Leading Marines" course from the Marine Corps Institute, and most instructors will require a report be completed on the Marine Raiders. Green belt is the third belt, requiring 25 hours of training. This belt signifies understanding of the intermediate fundamentals of the different disciplines. This is the first belt level in which one can become an instructor, which allows him or her to teach tan, grey, and green belt techniques with the power to award the appropriate belt. The prerequisites for this belt include a recommendation from reporting senior. Brown belt is the fourth belt level requiring 33 hours of training. It introduces Marines to the advanced fundamentals of each discipline. In addition, as with green belts, they may be certified as MAIs and teach tan through brown techniques. Prerequisites for this belt include recommendation of reporting senior. Black belt 1st degree is the highest belt color and requires 40 hours of supervised training. It signifies knowledge of the advanced fundamentals of the different disciplines. A 1st degree black belt instructor may teach fundamentals from tan to black belt and award the appropriate belt. In addition, a black belt can become an instructor-trainer, which authorizes

Usmc Combat Conditioning Createspace Independent Pub

The Marine Corps exists to fight America's battles and make Marines. This means that everything we do as Marines is focused on our preparation for combat. For these reasons, the Marine is the ultimate warrior who must be prepared for uncertainty. Unlike the professional athlete, a Marine cannot afford to "peak;" rather, a Marine must maintain an optimal fitness level at all times. A Marine's training must combine strength, power, speed, and agility in order to enhance martial skills that can be applied at the optimal moment in a combat environment. Combat has no quarters, halftime or known time element. Therefore, a Marine is required to fight in any terrain and under any climatic condition when facing the rigors of the modern battlefield. This volume on Combat Conditioning consists of various components of fitness, as well as, the programs that are part of the Marine Corps Martial Arts Combat Conditioning Program.

One Mind, Any Weapon: the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program

The focus of Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) is the personal development of each Marine in a team framework using a standardized, trainable, and sustainable close combat fighting system. As a weapon-based system, all techniques are integrated with equipment, physical challenges, and tactics found on the modern battlefield. The MCMAP is designed to increase the warfighting capabilities of individual Marines and units, enhance Marines' self-confidence and esprit de corps, and foster the warrior ethos in all Marines. The MCMAP is a weapon-based system rooted in the credo that every Marine is a rifleman and will engage the aggressor from 500 meters to close quarter combat. The MCMAP: * Enhances the Marine Corps' capabilities as an elite fighting force. * Provides basic combative skills for all Marines. * Applies across the spectrum of violence. * Strengthens the Marine Corps warrior ethos. The motto of MCMAP best states the essence of the program: "One mind, any weapon." This means that every Marine is always armed even without a weapon. He is armed with a combat mindset, the ability to assess and to act, and the knowledge that all Marines can rely on one another

U.S. Marine Close Combat Fighting Handbook Simon and Schuster

There are currently more than 200,000 active-duty U.S. Marines and another 40,000 in the reserves. These Marines depend on the skills and techniques taught in this concise manual—and now you can, too! This fully illustrated guide features the LINE (linear in-fighting neural-override engagement) system, which is designed to be learned and memorized through repetition. Once the techniques are fully acquired, they should be applied instinctively. The U.S. Marine Close Combat Fighting Handbook explains the methods to quickly neutralize any attacker in close quarters and teaches you how to use any part of the human body as a weapon. It covers breaking a fall, defending against headlocks and chokes, protecting against punches and kicks, surviving encounters with armed attackers, and more.

Commander's Intent. MCMAP is an integrated, weapons-based system that incorporates the full spectrum of the force continuum on the battlefield, and contributes to the mental, character and physical development of Marines. It is the intent that MCMAP enhances the transformation from civilian to Marine by capitalizing on the zeal of entry level training, and developing the Marine ethos in a progressive manner throughout a Marine's career. Concept of operations (a) All Marines, regardless of age, grade or sex must perform MCMAP qualifications. (b) Commanders shall conduct MCMAP training in accordance with the instructions contained. (e) The prescribed minimum requirements of this Order should not be interpreted as limiting the commander. Commanders are encouraged to conduct additional MCMAP training in a progressive, safe manner to enhance unit performance and fitness levels of Marines.

Warfighting Vigeo Press

The manual describes the general strategy for the U.S. Marines but it is beneficial for not only every Marine to read but concepts on leadership can be gathered to lead a business to a family. If you want to see what make Marines so effective this book is a good place to start.

Marine Corps Martial Arts Program Createspace Independent Pub

MCMAP is an integrated martial art designed for and executed by all Marines throughout their careers. MCMAP is a revolutionary step in the development of martial skills for Marines and replaces all other close combat-related systems preceding its introduction.

Close Combat Paladin Press

This exclusive new manual contains the most current close combat methods being taught to U.S. Marines for use on today's battlefield. It outlines the Marine Corps' latest lethal and non-lethal weapons techniques, use of knives and sticks and the full spectrum of unarmed tactics. For academic study only.

McMap Marine Corps Martial Arts Program CreateSpace

The Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) is a combat system developed by the United States Marine Corps to combine existing and new hand-to-hand and close quarters combat (CQC) techniques with morale and team-building functions and instruction in the Warrior Ethos. The program, which began in 2001, trains Marines (and U.S. Navy personnel attached to Marine units) in unarmed combat, edged weapons, weapons of opportunity, and rifle and bayonet techniques. It also stresses mental and character development, including the responsible use of force, leadership, and teamwork. The techniques used by MCMAP vary in degrees of lethality, allowing the user to select the most appropriate (usually the least) amount of force. For example, a Marine facing a nonviolent but noncompliant subject can use an unarmed restraint to force compliance with minimal damage and pain. A more aggressive subject could be met with a choke, hold, or a strike. Lethal force can be used on a subject as a last resort. The majority of techniques can be defensive or offensive in use, with or without a weapon; allowing Marines flexibility in combat and operations other than war (such as civil control or humanitarian missions, as well as self-defense).

Black Belt Krav Maga Ulysses Press

As the official defensive tactics system of Israeli police, military, and elite special operations units, krav maga has proven its effectiveness from front lines and back streets to prisoner transport and "take no prisoners" missions. For the first time, "Black Belt Krav Maga" teaches and illustrates the discipline's most lethal fighting and self-defense moves in book format. These no-holds-barred street fighting techniques are designed to do one thing and one thing only: end a fight as quickly as possible by completely disabling an opponent. Extensive counterattacks are illustrated for the most dangerous situations, including neutralizing attackers armed with guns, knives, and other weapons. The program in Black Belt Krav Maga trains readers to function during the stress and shock of a sudden, violent encounter and react with a perfectly coordinated counterattack--quickly, automatically, and with deadly accuracy.

Sustaining the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program

Close combat is vital to the Marine Corps, a service that prides itself on being able to "locate, close with, and destroy the enemy ..." The Marine Corps has adopted many programs designed to dispatch the enemy at close range. Unfortunately, programs like Close Combat Instruction (CCI) and the Linear In-fighting Neurological-override Engagement (LINE) system did not completely satisfy the Marine Corps' needs and were virtually incompatible with other Marine Corps training programs due to their limited focus on unarmed combat only. Therefore, the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) was implemented in the summer of 2000 under the direction of General James L. Jones, 32nd Commandant of the Marine Corps. MCMAP is an integrated, synergistic fighting system incorporating mental, character, and physical disciplines that apply across the entire spectrum of violence. MCMAP is a program that offers added value to the Marine Corps both on and off the battlefield. It mirrors the Marine Corps ethos and arms Marines with skills, knowledge, and values that will continue to be useful to them throughout their careers and lives. The Martial Arts Center of Excellence should constantly sell the program, whether it is to the potential recruit, the gunnery sergeant with 15 years of service, or the Commandant himself. The leaders of the Corps at all levels must be the primary target audience and recognize the value that MCMAP brings to the table. Moreover, they must require MCMAP participation of themselves and all their Marines. Ultimately, the Marine Corps needs to reinforce its commitment to this program by implementing requirements that place the program on equal footing as other established programs, such as professional military education, rifle range, and the PFT. MCMAP may be short lived unless the Marine Corps does a better job of selling the program to all Marines, establishes and enforces overdue requirements, and receives the support of senior leadership.

This publication guides individual Marines, team leaders, and martial arts instructors/instructor trainers in the proper tactics, techniques, and procedures for US Marine Corps martial arts training.

The Ethical Warrior Createspace Independent Pub

Jack Hoban delivers a revolutionary view of moral values for our time epitomized by the Ethical Warrior - protector of self and others as equal human beings. Hoban's methodology reaches from the Greek ancients to the counterinsurgency efforts of today's Marines to provide ethical clarity and confidence in our moral actions.

Tie-Ins for Life CreateSpace

How do you teach values? How do you keep yourself and others motivated and positive under the stresses of everyday life, not to mention the rigors of combat as a U.S. Marine? "Not with lectures, that is for sure," says Joseph "Joe Marine" Shusko. Joe Shusko has mentored hundreds of Marines, police officers, and regular folk with great success for over thirty years. His secret? He tells them stories that inspire moral behavior and an enthusiastic perspective on life. He calls these stories "tie-ins" because they do more than make you feel good, they inspire moral action. "Ethics," says Joe, "are moral values in action. I typically give a 'tie-in' to my students after we have done some physical exercise together, especially martial arts training. This allows me to 'tie' a moral lesson to the physical action in order to make Ethical Warriors." Now he has written down his collection of world-famous tie-ins for anyone and everyone to enjoy. Pick up the book, open to any page, and feel a moral rejuvenation! Note: This book was revised in 2015 with more stories and a special section on leadership and mentoring! Joe has worked assiduously to craft tools that enable and inspire young leaders to examine themselves mentally, emotionally, physically and spiritually. - MajGen Thomas Jones, USMC (Ret) I have heard Joe tell these stories in front of many audiences, from battle-hardened Marines to skeptical civilians and everyone in between. The reaction? "These stories are great!" And they are great, because Joe has found the secret to teaching moral values: tell stories that inspire moral action. - Jack E. Hoban, President of Resolution Group International

Unbecoming Atria Books

Brimming "with the ebullient Bhagwati's fierce humanism, seething humor, and change-maker righteousness," (Shelf Awareness) a raw, unflinching memoir by a former US Marine Captain chronicling her journey from dutiful daughter of immigrants to radical activist fighting for historic policy reform. After a lifetime of buckling to the demands of her strict Indian parents, Anuradha Bhagwati abandons grad school in the Ivy League to join the Marines—the fiercest, most violent, most masculine branch of the military—determined to prove herself there in ways she couldn't before. Yet once training begins, Anuradha's GI Jane fantasy is punctured. As a bisexual woman of color in the military, she faces underestimation at every stage, confronting misogyny, racism, sexual violence, and astonishing injustice perpetrated by those in power. Pushing herself beyond her limits, she also wrestles with what drove her to pursue such punishment in the first place. Once her service concludes in 2004, Anuradha courageously vows to take to task the very leaders and traditions that cast such a dark cloud over her time in the Marines. Her efforts result in historic change, including the lifting of the ban on women from pursuing combat roles in the military. "Bhagwati's fight is both incensing and inspiring" (Booklist) in this tale of heroic resilience and grapples with the timely question of what, exactly, America stands for, showing how one woman learned to believe in herself in spite of everything.

Individual Training Standards (ITS) System for the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP) Createspace Independent Pub

The references establish the system used to publish all training standards, provide policy, and assign training responsibilities, especially as applied to the Systems Approach to Training (SAT). ITSs establish the training requirements for all Marines in the same occupational field (OccFld), Military Occupational Specialty (MOS), or billet. They provide a foundation upon which unit commanders, Functional Learning Center (FLC) directors, and distance learning (DL) developers build training packages for individual Marines as part of unit training plans or formal courses of instruction. ITSs represent the skills that contribute to the unit mission as expressed in the Mission Performance Standards (MPS). Changes to doctrine or force structure or the introduction of new weapons or equipment may necessitate revision of this Order. The order further defines the program's Mental and Character Skills and their interdependence with the Physical Skills and provides the basis for standardized instruction. The Order also ties the three disciplines together and reinforces the Marine Corps Core Values through repetition and discussion. The qualifications for Black Belt Second Degree through Black Belt Sixth Degree are identified for the first time in this Order. Martial Arts Instructor (MAI) and Martial Arts Instructor Trainer (MAIT) skills include additional tasks that will improve instructor capabilities, addressing ORM and other instructional techniques.

Marine Corps Martial Arts Independently Published

The Basic School is where newly minted second lieutenants learn the nuances of being Marine officers, and the members of Echo Company were here to begin their training as part of the new Marine Corps Martial Arts Program, or MCMAP. MCMAP is an initiative to sharpen the Marines' hand-to-hand combat skills. The curriculum is a new kind of martial arts that combines several Asian systems, including kung fu, tae kwon do, karate, Thai boxing, judo, and bayonet and knife-fighting tactics.

Krav Maga Professional Tactics

BECAUSE NOT ALL KRAV MAGA IS THE SAME (TM) Israeli krav maga is the official self-defense system of the Israel Defense Forces. Krav maga training shares the same principles for civilians, law enforcement, and military personnel alike to deliver them from harm's way. Goals however, are different for law enforcement and military personnel. This book is designed for security-conscious civilians, law enforcement officers, military personnel, and security professionals alike who want to improve their chances of not just surviving an armed attack, but increase the odds of prevailing without serious injury. Krav maga's popularity in professional law enforcement, military, and security circles is attributable to its practicality, simplicity, quick retention, easy learning curve, and brutal effectiveness. This effectiveness is built on a few core tenets and simple building blocks. General principles are applied and customized to suit the needs of a dynamic violent situation. Contents include: Mind-sets, reactions, and tactics in response to violence The highest-level counters against multiple armed attacks and threats Core kick, clinch, and tackle defenses Core ground survival tactics Multiple-opponent strategies and tactics Impact weapon defenses Edged weapon defenses Firearm disarms and retention Includes 954 detailed photographs The most up-to-date tactics presented in this book focus on the most common violent scenarios. These techniques derive from the author's translation of the Israeli Krav Maga Association (IKMA) curriculum. The IKMA is the governing body for krav maga, recognized by the Israeli government and headed by Grandmaster Haim Gidon. Responsible people seek krav maga training as a shield against violence.

Martial Arts Program

The focus of Marine Corps Martial Arts Program is the personal development of each Marine in a team framework using a standardized, trainable, and sustainable close combat fighting system. As a weapon-based system, all techniques are integrated with equipment, physical challenges, and tactics found on the modern battlefield. The MCMAP is designed to increase the warfighting capabilities of individual Marines and units, enhance Marines' self-confidence and esprit de corps, and foster the warrior ethos in all Marines. The MCMAP is a weapon-based system rooted in the credo that every Marine is a rifleman and will engage the aggressor from 500 meters to close quarter combat. The MCMAP:* Enhances the Marine Corps' capabilities as an elite fighting force.* Provides basic combative skills for all Marines.* Applies across the spectrum of violence.* Strengthens the Marine Corps warrior ethos.

Fixing MCMAP: how to Make the Marine Corps Martial Arts into a True Martial Art Book Two If you are planning to enter the Marine Corps, you need to look at this addition to the Marine Corps Martial Arts... If you want to get a heads up on the superb physical conditioning and the 'One Mind, Any Weapon mentality of the modern Marine... If you are a Martial Arts instructor and want to get the straight skinny on a martial art specifically designed for today's battlefields and warriors... If you are just one of those gosh darned civilians and want to tap into the most excellent battlefield conditioning on the planet, the smartest self defense in the world, and a COMPLETE Martial Art... THEN 'FIXING MCMAP' IS FOR YOU! Fixing MCMAP takes the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program and makes a few adjustments, and makes it into a Martial Art that is head and shoulders above the rest. The few mistakes that were made in the formation of this art are corrected, specific (two man) forms are added, freestyle drills are developed, and MCMAP suddenly becomes more understandable, quicker and easier to learn, and MUCH more deadly. If you want self defense, the kind of self-defense that enables warriors to live through modern battlefields, then Fixing MCMAP is for you.

Battle Leadership Echo Point Books & Media

Although the technologies of war will always change, the insights of great leaders are timeless. And at no time are those lessons more important than in the heat of combat with lives on the line. The key is in preparation before a conflict. Battle Leadership helps you be prepared by teaching such essential skills as: How to handle different personalities under extreme stress. How to prepare your troops psychologically for combat. Insight into proven battlefield tactics (even if some of those tactics are only still relevant for their historical insights). How to instill confidence in those following you. While military tactics change, the wisdom of true leadership invariably holds. These lessons can even be applied to running a business, non-profit or government department, but they are crucial to every military commander or aspiring officer. Find out why when lives are on the line, generations have turned to and continue to learn from Battle Leadership.

Marine Corps Martial Arts: One Mind, Any Weapon

What is the purpose of the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP)? What should its purpose be? Is this particular program usable in actual situations or is it fundamentally flawed? Despite years of implementation, the program still raises doubt regarding its necessity, usability, and validity. From Okinawa to Camp Lejeune, Marines practice MCMAP techniques on plots of grass -- steadily acquiring tan, gray, and green belts. Yet doubt still pervades the force. Is it really necessary, and does it actually work? Three simple but effective ideas will assist commanders in employing the MCMAP program. First, leaders must recognize the benefits of MCMAP. Second, leaders must counter-balance the limitations of the MCMAP instructors with their own war fighting education and experience. Third, leaders must encourage instructors to train to a specific end. These three ideas, coupled with clear guidance from the commander, will sky-rocket the close-in fighting skills of the Marines in any given unit. Fundamentally, these three ideas arise from an existent paradigm regarding the nature of war and the focus of a commander. The commander employs his unit in combat to accomplish the mission. In doing so, he does not limit himself to only one or two tools. Rather, he seeks to use all tools available to place his enemy in a dilemma. Anything that can be used to assist in accomplishing his mission is a tool. Hence, the value of a tool in the eyes of a commander is based on its capacity to assist in accomplishing the commander's mission. The effective implementation of MCMAP results in at least six fundamental benefits -- one primary benefit (physical ability) and five lesser capabilities (mindset, confidence, self defense, ability to take a life by one's own hand, and compliance with the Commandant's guidance).

Leading Marines (McWp 6-10) (Formerly McWp 6-11)
Lulu.com

Marine Corps Warfighting Publication MCWP 6-10 (Formerly MCWP 6-11) Leading Marines 2 May 2016 The act of leading Marines is a sacred responsibility and a rewarding experience. This publication describes a leadership philosophy that speaks to who we are as Marines. It is about the relationship between the leader and the led. It is also about the bond between all Marines that is formed in the common forge of selfless service and shared hardships. It's in this forge where Marines are hardened like steel, and the undefinable spirit that forms the character of our Corps is born. It draws from shared experiences, hardships, and challenges in training and combat. Leading Marines is not meant to be read passively; as you read this publication, think about the material. You should reflect on, discuss, and apply the concepts presented in this publication. Furthermore, it is the responsibility of leaders at all levels to mentor and develop the next generation of Marine leaders.
