--Kirkus Reviews "This biography of celebrated photographer Dorothea Lange (best known for the iconic Migrant Mother) has a clear, consistent message: Lange's photographs are unique because they depict "people the world ignores" with both truth and love, allowing viewers to see the world with their eyes and hearts....Statements in bold red print found throughout the text explain the growth of Lange's caring and truthful approach, while descriptive words written in gray print highlight the ...

Dorothea's Eyes : Dorothea Lange Photographs the Truth by ...

Lange witnessed the belly of the crisis at a soup kitchen not far from her photo studio, run by a woman nicknamed White Angel. White Angel Breadline, San Francisco (1933) poignantly captures a middle-aged man waiting in a crowded line outside the kitchen, clinging to an empty cup. His hat is pulled down over his eyes, as if in shame.

Dorothea Lange's 5 Most Iconic Images - Artsy

As a child, Lange was teased and rejected by her peers for her limp, yet the very invisibility she feels becomes an asset as she learns to see "with her eyes and her heart." As Lange grew older, she began taking photographs, eventually discovering her interest in capturing portraits of the impoverished and needy during the Great Depression: "Dorothea's eyes won't let the country look away."
