Vade-Mecum for the Clarinet is a set of six studies by Paul Jeanjean (1874-1928) and was composed for intermediate level players who don't always have the time to practise but have to be warmed up. It should prepare them in approximately half an hour and is particularly good to render the fingers and tongue rapidly supple.

The Vade-Mecum is a Leduc publication, so as usual it's a little pricey for its 20 or so pages (currently $29.40 at my favorite source). But this is money well spent if you're an intermediate to pro-level clarinetist and interested in a serious and thorough workout in a short time. A few of tips: You'll need your French dictionary.
