The K locus determines whether a dog is solid-coloured (eumelanin only) or has red/tan (phaeomelanin) in its coat as well. There are three genes in the K series, and if a dog has one or two K genes (K is the top dominant in the series, so it overrides everything else), it will be solid-coloured. In most cases, this means solid black, because black is the default colour of eumelanin, but a dog with the liver gene will have that solid black turned into liver, so will be solid liver.
