Pope Francis reflected on the day’s Gospel from St Mark (8:27-33), in which the evangelist recounts Peter’s Confession of faith. Pope Francis began by nothing that Peter “was certainly the most courageous one that day, when Jesus asked his disciples: but who do you say that I am?”. For he responded decisively: “You are the Christ”.

But who do you say that I am? (20 February 2014) | Francis

When Jesus asked, “Who do people say I am?” the disciples offered various answers, “ [S]ome say John the Baptist, some say Elijah, and others say you are one of the other prophets” (8:27). Not satisfied with any of these answers, Jesus turned to his closest followers and asked, “But who do you say I am?” (8:29).

Who Do You Say That I Am? - Ignatian Spirituality

Jesus’ question “Who do you say that I am?” is a good example of one of His teaching methods. Asking a question demands engagement, promotes thinking, and draws out a considered response. Jesus’ question and subsequent teaching also illustrate the progressive nature of God’s revelation and our need for growing in faith. Throughout history, God has revealed His message gradually, starting in Genesis and continuing through the close of the canon.

Why did Jesus ask the disciples, “Who do you say that I am ...

The Muslims say you are a son of God like Mohammed. The Christians say you are the Christ, the Son of the living God. “But who do you say that I am?” the voice persisted. In that moment it occurred to me that at the end of the day what’s important is not that you get the right answer but that you come to your own profession of faith. When you do, you not only define your relationship to Jesus, but his relationship to you.

Mark 8.27-30 Who Do You Say That I Am? (McLarty) - Sermon ...

After Jesus asks the question, who do you say that I am, Peter gives him the answer, “you are the messiah, the son of the living God.” We can only imagine that Peter was like my farmer friend, and gave a reply without questioning or not understanding the question, despite the difficulties of it.
