Migration In The Middle East

Desperate Migration in the Middle East. Conflict in the Middle East is driving millions of people from their homes: Estimates from the UN Refugee Agency suggest that more than 4 million Syrians are refugees, 50,000 more have sought asylum and at least 7 million more are internally displaced. In Iraq, near 2 million are displaced.

Desperate Migration in the Middle East | YaleGlobal Online

Among the key themes covered in the Middle East region are the profiles, intentions, risks, socio-economic conditions and vulnerabilities of people in mixed migration flows as well as those stranded or stuck in protracted displacement.

Middle East | Mixed Migration Centre

The Middle East and North Africa span both poles of migration: as countries of migrant destination, particularly in the Gulf Cooperation Council countries, and as countries of migrant origin. The region has a large supply of young, active workers, with more than 20 million migrants working elsewhere in the region or in Europe.

Middle East & North Africa | migrationpolicy.org

Besides economic factors, war and international politics have influenced migration in the Middle East since World War I. Humphrey and Tabutin et al. have argued that the ethnic and religious diversity of the Middle Eastern diasporas in Europe, North America, and Australia is an indication of the level of ethnic conflict that occurred in the process of carving out nation-states from a multiethnic empire under the impact of European colonialism. There are many examples of how wars and ...

Demography, Migration and Security in the Middle East

A focus on individual narratives of migration, integration and compromise of the four major forced migrant groups in the Middle East – the Circassians, Kurds, Armenians and Palestinians – contributes to developing understanding of the coping strategies and mechanisms adopted by these societies and helps explain the relationship between politics, forced migration and identity formation in the region.

Dispossession and Forced Migration in the Middle East ...

The Middle East currently is both the source and recipient of the largest numbers of refugees and internally displaced persons (IDPs) globally. While Syria and Yemen are at the core of the largest-scale displacements at the moment, there is significant displacement in and from other countries too, as far apart as Iraq and Libya.

Displacement in the Middle East | Forced Migration Review

Middle Easterners are one of the fastest growing immigrant groups in America. While the size of the overall immigrant population (legal and illegal) has tripled since 1970, the number of immigrants from the Middle East has grown more than seven-fold, from fewer than 200,000 in 1970 to nearly 1.5 million in 2000.
