Kant greatly refines Hume's construction of justice within his 'metaphysical principles of justice', whilst preserving the core model of Hume's innovative constructivism. Hume's and Kant's constructivism avoids the conventionalist and relativist tendencies latent, if not explicit, in contemporary forms of moral constructivism.

How Hume and Kant Reconstruct Natural Law: Justifying

... Kenneth R. Westphal. Description. Kenneth R. Westphal presents an original interpretation of Hume's and Kant's moral philosophies, the differences between which are prominent in current philosophical accounts. Westphal argues that focussing on these differences, however, occludes a decisive, shared achievement: a distinctive constructivist method to identify basic moral principles and to justify their strict objectivity, without invoking moral realism nor moral anti-realism or irrationalism.

Hume's and Kant's constructivist method is both sound and significant because it is based upon a core principle of rational justification as such within non-formal domains. Explicating this principle of Natural Law Constructivism illuminates and justifies four key aspects of the autonomy of rational judgment, including our positive moral freedom.
