Carrying the darkness : American Indochina : the poetry of ...

"Darkness" is a poem written by Lord Byron in July 1816 on the theme of an apocalyptic end of the world. That year was known as the Year Without a Summer, because Mount Tambora had erupted in the Dutch East Indies the previous year, casting enough sulphur into the atmosphere to reduce global temperatures and cause abnormal weather across much of north-east America and northern Europe. This pall of darkness inspired Byron to write his poem. Literary critics were initially content to classify it a
